July 31, 2010, 5:30 p.m., "A Shining Light Across America," 100th Anniversary Celebration at Coca-Cola Park: Enjoy this special 100th Anniversary celebration at this great baseball stadium, home of the IronPigs, Triple-A affiliate of the Championship Philadelphia Phillies. Watch the live broadcast of the 2010 National Jamboree's Closing Arena Show on the park's JUMBO outfield screen. There's no game this evening so Scouting has the entire park for this celebration with music, activities, presentations, and the Jamboree Arena Show. Activities for Scouts, families, friends and volunteers will take place on the stadium's concourse level with gates opening at 5:30 p.m. and the evening wrapping up with a fireworks show about 10:00 p.m.

While the National Jamboree satellite show will certainly be a hit, many other activities are planned to entertain, engage and inspire:

- a live musical band piped over the stadium's sound system and video displays
- a Cub-friendly Kid Zone with inflatable attractions and similar climb-on, slide-down, and jump-in activities
- displays and hands-on exhibits from zoos, science (discovery) centers, arts (and craft) centers, amusement parks and more
- a parade of flags where units will be able to show their colors as they parade around the field
- appearances and audience photo ops with local team mascots (and possibly a guest appearance from the Philly Phanatic)
- T-shirt blaster give-a-ways (where shirts are "blasted" from the ball field up into the stands)
- video presentation of special 100th Anniversary and Scout videos
- a display of a 40-foot-long Scouting Anniversary timeline
- an opening ceremony with the National Anthem, Pledge of Allegiance, Scout Oath & Law and more
- Lord Baden-Powell will even make a very special live appearance and talk to the crowd
- if that wasn't enough, there will be a fireworks display to end the evening

These are just some of the events being planned; closer to the event, more details will be available.
